

THE BUSINESS CYCLE IS DIFFERENT THAN THE ECONOMIC CYCLE

Nominal GDP (economic growth): 1950-2024

S&P 500 EPS (earnings growth): 1950-2024

EARNINGS DECLINES DURING YEARS WITH ECONOMIC GROWTH: 1950-2024

LAST 19 (of 24) YEARS WHEN EPS DECLINED, DESPITE GROWTH IN THE ECONOMY

- Of the 75 years since 1950, every year except 2009 & 2020 had positive nominal growth in the economy (i.e., including inflation)
- Since 1950, 9 years (12%) had declines in real economic growth (excluding inflation); essentially recession years
- 25 of the years (33%) experienced declines in earnings from the S&P 500 companies
